JOURNALISM PICNIC WILL BE AT IDLEWILD MAY 29

Mr. and Mrs. Grehan To Give Newspaper Students Outing on Kentucky River

"Come on in, the water's fine," will be the call on the afternoon of Saturday, May 29, at Idlewild on the Kentucky River, where the annual picnic for the students in the Department of Journalism will be given by Professor and Mrs. Enoch Grehan.

Idlewild is a delightful spot in the midst of the river hills, eight miles west of Versailles. Cherry Lodge, on the Woodford side of the river, has been reserved for the afternoon, and the fun will consist of boating, bathing, and a delicious picnic supper.

Moonlight dancing on the piazza of Cherry Lodge will follow for those who "trip the light fantastic," and the cavalcade of motor cars will start the trip home about 8:30 o'clock.

All students in the Department of Journalism are especially invited, and the hosts request that their guests accept this notice as a final invitation. The party will leave the Main Building promptly at 12 o'clock.

MISS PHILLIPS HIGHEST PAID KENTUCKY ALUMNA

Law Graduate of '17 Is Executive Secretary of Woman's Clubs

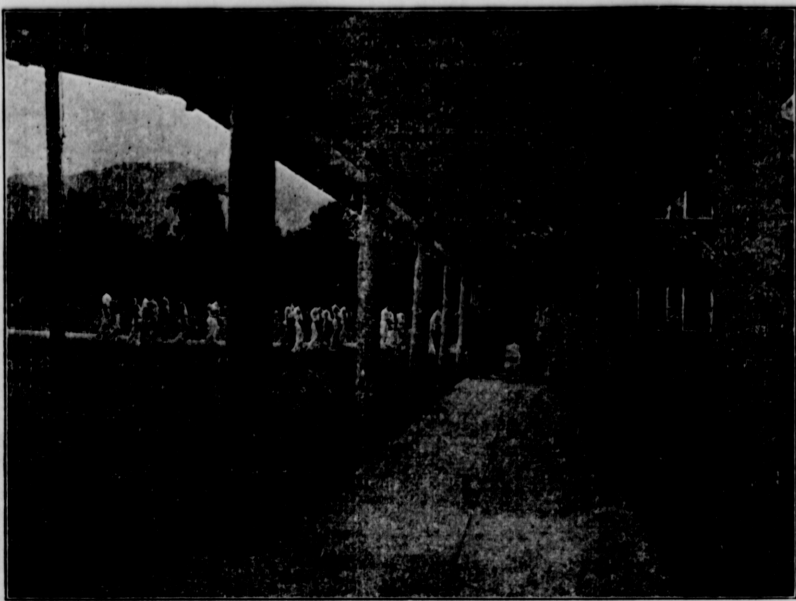

Miss Lena Madesin Phillips, as Executive Secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Woman's Clubs received the highest salary of any alumna of the University of Kentucky. Her salary is $5,000 a year.

There is a photograph of Miss Phillips on the cover of a recent issue of "The Independent Woman" and in the March issue of the People's Magazine she is classed among the really great women of the United States "who do not darn."

Miss Phillips, a daughter of Judge W. A. Phillips, of Nicholasville, Kentucky, was graduated from the College of Law of the University of Kentucky in 1917. She is a member of the Chi Omega fraternity.

Miss Phillips was one of the leading musicians of Kentucky. She studied music and art in Europe before taking her professional course.

As the Executive Secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Miss Phillips has offices in the Flatiron Building, New York City. She came through Lexington Sunday night en route to Little Rock, Arkansas, where she addressed the Federation of Woman's Clubs in regard to her work.

COMING FROM CLASS AT BLUE RIDGE.

Kentucky should have at least fifty students attend the Southern Student Conferences at Blue Ridge, June 6 to 15 for women, and June 16 to 25 for men. Fifteen women and over a dozen men have already signified their intention of attending.

THETA SIGMA PHI INITIATION MAY 25

Formal installation of Phi Sigma, women's local journalistic fraternity, as a chapter of the national honorary journalistic fraternity for women. Theta Sigma Phi, has been postponed until next week owing to the fact that it was impossible for the installing officer to come to Lexington on the date announced in the last issue of the Kernel.

The following young women are to be initiated into the national fraternity: Martha Buckman, Louise Will, Elizabeth Card, Adele Slade, Marguerite McLaughlin, Mary Archer Bell, Margaret McClure and Elizabeth Marshall.

Theta Sigma Phi, national, was founded at the University of Washington in 1909 and now has chapters in many of the large universities. The granting of the petition of the local Phi Sigma, along with similar applications from Columbia University, New York City, and Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., is another step toward placing the University of Kentucky among the leading colleges of journalism in the country.

HONOR FRATERNITY FORMED BY MEN IN ECONOMICS DEPT.

A new fraternity, Pi Chi, a local organization composed of men majoring in Economics and Business Administration, has been formed for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the department and recognizing scholarship in these branches. Men who signed the petition are: Robert J. Raible, C. Raymond Rodgers, Jim E. Wilhelm, H. B. Lloyd, C. E. Fisher, and Fred K. Augsburg.

It is a professional fraternity with scholarship qualifications, and purposes to affiliate with a national organization.

Alpha Delta Sigma To Establish Chapter At Georgetown College

Alpha Delta Sigma, the national honorary fraternity in journalism, which has a chapter at the University of Kentucky, will establish a chapter at Georgetown College during the next week.

The local fraternity at Georgetown petitioned Alpha Delta Sigma some time ago and it was decided at the meeting of the Grand Council last week to grant the petition.

The Georgetown chapter will be initiated by the Henry Watterson chapter, of Kentucky, as this is the closest chapter to Georgetown.

The members of the Henry Watterson chapter are: Enoch Grehan, Herndon Evans, Donald Dinning, Robert J. Raible, J. P. Barnes, Jesse Tapp, Harry Cottrell, James Dixon, William Soward, Ralph Peters, Arthur Cameron and J. Burton Prewitt.

$500 SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED AG. MEN

The University has another scholarship to offer to young women students. It will be awarded to students in the College of Agriculture who have completed the work of the junior year.

The Sharpless Generator Company, West Chester, Pennsylvania, has given a scholarship of $500 annually to be awarded by a committee and Dean Cooper has appointed Professor J. J. Hooper, Miss Sweeney and Professor George Roberts as members of the committee. The object of the scholarship is to promote the dairy interest in Kentucky and to encourage young men not only to study dairy products and their value of food, but after graduation to enter public service work and educate the American people in a greater and more intelligent use and consumption of all kinds of dairy products.

COMPANY "D" WINS COMPETITIVE DRILL

Freshmen Company "D" won the prize in the competitive drill of the cadet battalion last Wednesday. The Sophomore companies were under a fifteen per cent handicap, but the work of every company was excellent, said the judges, Captain Albert S. J. Tucker, Commandant, H. P. Mason, formerly of the Sixth Marines and "Red" Davidson, formerly of the Ninetieth Division.

J. C. Everett, Maysville, is the captain of the winning company, and Charles Smith and W. R. Wilson are lieutenants. The prize of about $65 is given by the University and is to be disposed of as the company sees fit.

In the individual competition held to determine the best trained privates W. B. Howell, sophomore of Company A, and W. D. Noulis, freshman, of Company D, won the individual prizes of $5 each.

Doctor Best Receives Note From Distant Land

Letter From Madagascar Asks About His Work With Deaf and Blind.

"Eminent Doctor" is the beginning of an interesting letter recently received from the far-off Island of Madagascar by Doctor Harry Best, Professor of Sociology at Kentucky.

It is written in French, and seeks information "concerning the best means of establishing in the Island of Madagascar, philanthropic and charitable works in behalf of the blind and deaf mutes."

The story is best told by the letter, which said in part: "I thought for that purpose best to address myself to the experiences of the learned Professor of Sociology of the University of Kentucky, whose works, 'The Blind,' and, 'The Deaf,' are authorities in the matter."

MARDI GRAS IN PATT. HALL YARD FRIDAY

Bathing Beauties, "Gwendolyn," and Other Attractions Will Feature "Big Time" Night

You are under arrest, that is unless you step lively in the direction of the Mardi Gras on Patt. Hall lawn Friday night. It's just the way the big policeman is going to treat you if you resist. But of course, you don't want to miss one minute of it from 7 o'clock to 12 for it is to be the most dazzling, elaborate festivity the University ever imagined. Besides the proceeds are going to make life endurable for you when you have to wait several hours for your girl in the Patt. Hall parlor. For the most comfortable new furniture and restful decorations will make time fly in place of the gloomy room now used as your torture chamber.

You heard something about it in chapel when Uncle Si and Aunt Sally were discussing it with Handsome Fred—I mean little Si and Sally. Well, they didn't mention half the attractions of this carnival night.

There will be confetti in the air and horns blowing and scores of fantastic and beautiful costumes moving about under the soft glow of the Chinese lanterns. Booths will form a gay white way to the Patt. Hall doors

The sun is so far away from the earth that if a child just born had an arm long enough to reach out and touch the sun, the child would be 200 years old before it knew it was burned.

Deans Cooper and Boyd Give Senior Reception

Seniors of the College of Agriculture and the College of Arts and Science of the University of Kentucky were entertained Saturday evening by Dean and Mrs. Thomas P. Cooper and Dean and Mrs. Paul P. Boyd at Dean Cooper's home in Scovell Place. The list of those invited included ninety-one names.

The house was artistically decorated with flowers and beautiful boxes of pink blossoms. Refreshments of ices and cakes were served by the hostesses. The seniors gave a delightful musical program and a number of clever stunts.

Astronomy Class Holds Picnic at Observatory

The members of Professor Downing's Astronomy class met at the Observatory for a last look at the sun and the stars through the telescope, followed by a grand picnic supper last Wednesday evening. The women of the class contributed the substantial of the lunch while the men brought a large freezer of ice cream. The long winter of "Observatory every Wednesday" ended with good things to eat and a good time for all.

Doctor Noyes Speaks to Chemical Society

Dr. William A. Noyes, President of the American Chemical Society, addressed the Lexington Section of the society last Thursday afternoon at 3:30 in the Physics Lecture Room. His subject was: "The Foundations for Chemical Development." The keynote of Doctor Noyes's address was the desire for service without the main consideration being the return in dollars. Doctor Noyes is Professor of Chemistry at the University of Illinois and widely known both as author of many standard text books and as a public speaker.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

The writer is wondering if the student body has observed that "Room 202" is a reality here on our own campus. The much "despised and rejected of men," Chem Lecture Room, bears that number. A student is writing new words for the song and in part it runs like this: "In room two hundred and two, 'Mighty Maxon keeps talking to you.'"

College of Agriculture.

Professor Hooper, Department of Dairying, has been chosen one of twenty-five judges of Jersey cattle for fairs which the American Jersey Cattle Club is appointing throughout the states. The club contributes premiums to the fairs and since it does, it feels that it should have a part in suggesting the calibre of men who will do the judging, so two men from this section have been selected. The other judge is John Lee, of Shelbyville. This is not only an honor for the University but our State should feel a pride in having two representatives.

College of Arts and Science.

Dean Paul P. Boyd will go to Bloomfield to deliver the commencement address at the high school there Friday evening. He was in Maysville the first part of the week to give a lecture to the Maysville Woman's Club, his subject, "The Social Function of the Church."

Professor E. F. Farquhar, head of the Department of English, will lecture on "The Literature of the Bible" at the Southern Student Conference conducted by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. at Montreat, North Carolina, from June 4 to June 14.

R. F. PETERS WRITES FOR SCHOOL JOURNAL

Senior Journalist Has Treatise Published in National Pedagogical Magazine.

R. F. Peters, senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, and student in the Department of Journalism, has won recognition while still in school, as a writer of ability. In the May number of the American School Board Journal, a periodical of School Administration published in Milwaukee, there appears an article on "Why Personal Growth Is Painful to the Ordinary Teacher," written by Mr. Peters.

The average teacher begins her career with plenty of ideals and much enthusiasm, but after a few years in the profession, these ideals are not so bright or enthusiasm so glowing, and the teacher finds herself in a rut from which she makes no endeavor to escape. Mr. Peters' article is a comprehensive analysis of one of the outstanding problems which are confronting educators today and contains some practical suggestions for improvement.

Mr. Peters has made several contributions of poetry to the Kernel, some of which have been republished in Lexington papers. He has also written other articles and poems exclusively for the Kernel. He is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary fraternity in journalism.

Doctor Guy Smith will teach mathematics at the University of Colorado, his Alma Mater, this summer.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Published every Friday throughout the College year by the student body of the University of Kentucky, for the benefit of the students, alumni and faculty of the institution.

The Kentucky Kernel is the official newspaper of the University. It is issued with a view of supplying its subscribers with all the college news of Kentucky, together with a digest of items of interest concerning the Universities of other States and Canada.

AU REVOIR!

This issue of the Kernel is to be its last for the scholastic year 1919-1920, because, as is its custom, the paper closes its work early enough to give the staff sufficient time to prepare for the final battle with the professors, the examinations. Let us therefore take a backward look and try to appraise the value and the service of the paper for the session now closing.

The session has been one of marked activity and unceasing labor for those who have been good enough to give their time and talent to the production of a student paper. Its course throughout the year has been interrupted by no untoward event save by one, when it was compelled to suspend publication of one issue on account of labor troubles in the office of its publisher. Indeed, it has been to those of us who have taken it most seriously to heart and sought to promote its usefulness, a year of so marked gratification and results that we hope we shall be pardoned a more or less personal animadversion at the parting of the ways for the brief season that shall intervene this time and our reassembling in September.

The Kernel knows full well that like all other human organizations, it has not fulfilled the highest mission which its promoters had marked out for it in the race, now closing. But be that as it may, it hopes that it has served to some extent both the University of Kentucky and its comrades, and with this abiding hope we look forward with avidity and pleasure to the succeeding session.

We do confess that hands slip each from each somewhat with sadness when we say good-bye, but our stewardship has been a source, nevertheless, of pleasure and profitable experience. Indeed, we are thankful that illness, death and many of the unhappy circumstances which wrought so gravely the preceding year against the pleasant enterprise of producing a student paper, did not return to cast their shadow again across our pathway.

The spirit of good comradeship both on the part of faculty and students has made the year one which, for those of us who are about to retire permanently, shall for all time be remembered with pleasure, and which we trust will be, in some meagre measure, a source of inspiration to those who shall take up the work where we shall so reluctantly lay it down. For the first time in the history of the Kernel it closes the session virtually free from debt, and, according to its policy, its columns also have been free from unkind criticism of its fellows.

The students this year have performed their daily duties somewhat as they always have, yet, there seems to be a change for the better. Some have become "rambunctious" and "cussed out" the coach and various professors, but, please the Fates, may they always do so, for it is but natural for youth so to offend, if not always pious. Some of the more reckless chauffeurs who use the campus for a speedway, have driven across the grass; still, this gives the campus a "shake well before using" appearance. Several, in fact, all the freshmen received free haircuts; we are not elaborating on the beauty of them, but they were free; and several sophomores received free baths, annual affairs as they are all in the college calendar. Instead of taking a donkey to the Physics Building they have taken goats to the fraternity houses, which at least shows some improvement.

The Kernel has ambitious schemes on foot for the forthcoming season. Through the assistance of the Registrar it has been able to reach a number of high school students. It hopes, next year, to reach through its columns every senior in the high schools of Kentucky. It hopes to reach all the future Governors, Senators, as it were, and mayhap a President, and a few who may not be Governors or Senators. We repeat, we hope, without egotism or boasting, that the Kernel has been called "the best college paper in the South." Next year we hope and expect to make it one of the best, nationally, and we feel that if the public extends to us the same support, which it has so generously given in the past, this goal may be reached.

When Brutus and Cassius parted for the last time, Brutus said:

"And whether we shall meet again, I know not.

Therefore, our everlasting farewell take.

Forever and forever, farewell, Cassius.

If we do meet again, why we shall smile.

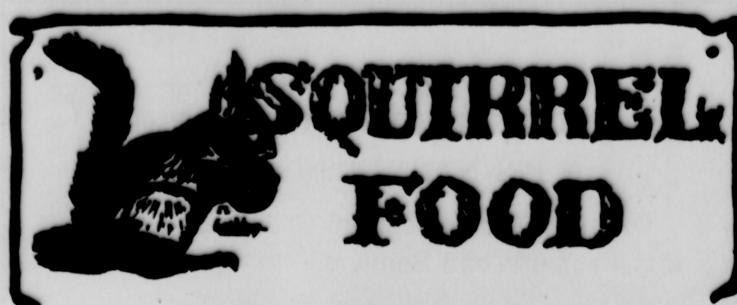

If not, why then, this parting was well made."

AU REVOIR!

Centre had a flag rush and several freshmen were slackers; the others wanted to cut their hair. One young fellow stood them off with a revolver, he was determined that he should not copy after the University of Kentucky.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are these, "Exams again."

Home Ec students—just remember the quotation, "Home-keeping hearts are happiest."

The guy who said: "Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look," was evidently thinking of Dr. Tigert.

I'll Say They Do!

Farquhar: "Now that expresses the universality of man. When I say man I mean women too."

Foster: "Certainly, you know men embrace women."

You Are Right.

You can string beans, kid gloves but you can't bullfrogs.

Fair to the End.

A Louisville woman ordered her ashes divided equally between her two husbands. This woman remained fair even unto death.

His Shortcoming.

Jack Dempsey has thirty-nine suits of clothes and not a khaki among the bunch.

Senior Stuff.

Grehn: "Who was Blackstone?" Colpitts: "Why er-a-er he was er—er Blackstone."

Extra! Extra!

The other day when I was perusing one of my lady friend's memory books I came across the following:

RECIPE FOR ?

Four lips pressed tightly together. One-half cup of kidding. Two ounces of love. Baked well and served in the dark.

This Was Also There.

"There are fools who kiss and tell." Incidentally she is "some woman."

Will I, or Won't I?

Whoso findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favor with the Lord.—Proverbs 18-22.

It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and angry woman.—Proverbs 21-19. Compiled by Buckstring.

Here He Lies.

The young man led for a heart, The maid for a diamond played, The old man came down with a club, And the sexton used a spade. —Wampus.

Mademoiselle On Dit: "I know this sounds pungent, but I wish we girls could wear track suits like the boys, you see they would not interfere when we run, etc."

Here We Are Again.

Knight of Lexington Drug says: "I wonder who is to be the trainer for the girls track team?"

"Go where the Goes Go—to the Orpheum, continued performance and perfumance."

Ten Years Hence.

Lady Visiting Pen: "And what brought you here my poor man?" John Land: "Same old story, Bevo and Wild Women."

Things We Never Hear.

"Young fellow, you have not known your lessons but you have laughed at my jokes, so I'll give you an A."

"It is drizzling today and we won't drill."

"Don't worry about your absences, I'll be glad to reinstate you."

"Can't I take you to town in my car."

After Burleson is removed with force, let us recommend Miss Bean for the position.

You'll have to admit that a canner can can anything he can can, but a canner can't can a can, can he?

"The editor wishes you, pleasant exams and a happy summer."

Just Crazy Stuff.

King Henry IV.: "The first thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers."

Listen, there are three ways to a woman's heart. One of these is flattery. The next time you are introduced to a dame, say:

"A fairer form, a face more sweet, Never hath it been my pleasure to meet," and you will see "The light of midnight's starry heavens Within her radiant eyes."

No wonder Fannie Hurst does not care to live with her husband, the poor guy is a composer of music, only a deaf mute could stand it.

Instead of saying: "The first time I heard that joke I kicked a slat out of the cradle," why not say something different, as: "I busted a safety pin."

If the cost of clothes and food continues on the upward climb we will have to go without clothes and graze.

The Blue and White, of the University of Kentucky, came fourth in what was undoubtedly the biggest and most representative track meet ever held in the South, with a grand total of 19 points. It was also the most hotly contested, there being four teams in the fight for first place throughout. Sewanee in first place with 29 points, was only 10 points above Kentucky. Mississippi A. & M. finished second with 27 points and Louisiana State University was third with 24 1/2.

Two records toppled in the course of the day's work. Clare, University of Kentucky, ran his first heat in 25-2-5 seconds, and broke the Southern record, and then came along and ran the finals in even better time, making it in 25-1-5 seconds. This lowers the old mark by 4-5 of a second, held jointly by Vinfro, A. and M., and Anderson, Vandy. Clare is the first Kentucky man to lower a S. I. A. A. record.

In the relay race the Vanderbilt runners established a new record for the Association with 3 minutes and 25 seconds, the previous record being 3 minutes and 26-3-5 seconds.

The honor of high point winner for the day resulted in a two-man tie. Clare, the wonderful hurdler from Kentucky, and Helm, the speed demon from L. S. U., on the dashes, tied up with totals of 10 points for the afternoon's work. Helm won both dashes and Clare both hurdle races.

Kentucky sent five representatives to the meet and each of them put all the strength they had toward winning. Thornton came first in the 880-yard dash, running it in 2 minutes and 21-5 seconds. Knight, captain of the Kentucky team, won third place in the mile run, while Snider, Wilhelm, Thornton and Knight showed up well in the relay, the Kentucky team winning third place.

Sewanee led the day with four first places, winning the 440-yard dash, the javelin, the high jump and the shot-put. Kentucky came next by copping both hurdles and the half mile, and along with them was L. S. U., with a first in the pole vault and first in both the 100 and 200-yard dashes.

It is very seldom that a track meet has been held in the South where the competition was so keen as was in evidence Saturday. Up to the very last event the result was in doubt. Not only was it a thriller because sixteen teams were entered, but because those sixteen put up the kind of competition which kept the spectator on his ear to find out who was leading after each event. The closeness of the affair can be judged when you see that the winner was winner by a narrow two points, and that four of the contestants in the front row were within ten points of each other.

Georgia Tech deserves credit for the excellent manner in which she played host to the visiting colleges, and it was the unanimous expression that the meet was altogether the best ever held in the South.

K. I. A. A. MEET WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

All the colleges in Kentucky will be eligible for entry in the Kentucky intercollegiate track meet which will be held on Stoll Field, Saturday afternoon.

It is no easy problem to work out dope on the meet. Georgetown defeated the University of Kentucky last year and Kentucky defeated Centre. This year Georgetown and Kentucky have both defeated Cincinnati. At the S. I. A. A. meet Kentucky won fourth place while Georgetown and Centre found themselves near the bottom. Just what the other colleges which will be represented will be able to do is not known, but the winner of the contest will not have a walk-away.

GIRLS' TRACK MEET TO BE WEDNESDAY

The girls track meet will be held on the girls' athletic field behind the Civil and Physics Building, Wednesday afternoon, May 22 at 3:30 o'clock. Five fraternity and one non-fraternity team will be entered. Each team will be allowed three entries in each event.

The meet is not confined to the girls who are taking physical education, but is open to juniors and seniors as well.

The meet will be composed of the following events: relay race, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, running broad jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, hop, step and jump and shot put.

Former Service Men Hold Regular Meeting

The former service men of the University who organized some time ago with Humphrey as commander, Keown as lieutenant commander, Rouse as secretary-treasurer and Hunter as sergeant-at-arms held a meeting in chapel last Thursday night. It was decided to make an organized effort to get every former service man in school to join some post of the American Legion.

WILDCATS TAKE GAME FROM GEORGETOWNIANS

Tigers Lose to Kentucky
By 3 to 0 Count on
Hinton Field

Just to demonstrate that they are still in shape after their northern trip the Wildcats interurbaned over to Georgetown last Saturday and white-washed the Tigers by the score of three to "what the little boy shot at." One run in the first inning gave the Kentucky team a lead sufficient to win, but habit is strong and two more tallies were added for the exercise. While Kentucky made three runs, only one of them was earned, the other two being donated by the poor fielding of the Tigers.

Cooper pitched a masterful game for the Wildcats, allowing but three hits and walking only one man. He was well supported by the rest of the team, only one error marring the good fielding and that an unavoidable one, as the ball made an unexpected bounce when "Speedy" Propps reached out to nail it. Al Muth provided a hair-raiser for the spectators when he ran up and made a wonderful one-hand catch of Rosier's long fly. Bailey, the Georgetown hurler, pitched a good game, but poor support on the part of his teammates rendered his pitching of no avail.

Score by innings:
Kentucky 110 100 000—3
Georgetown 000 000 000—0

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.

A Word of Admonition To Great Solomon II.

My daughter, hearken unto the counsels of thy mother; incline thine ear unto wisdom and thine heart to understanding. Let thy soul not be puffed up with pride, and profess not thine own wisdom. For behold the downfall of the great king, Solomon II. He payeth no heed to the proverb, "Even a fool when he holdeth his peace is counted wise." He prateth of what he knoweth not; namely, of women. Though Solomon II. have a thousand wives as had the Great Solomon, nevertheless he shall not understand the complexities of the nature of woman. The wisdom of Solomon is as a parable, but of what use is wisdom if she joineth herself not to understanding?

Lo, the great wisdom of Solomon availeth itself nothing when a comely woman is by. A glance of the eye and he becometh as wax in her hands, even he, Solomon! For so it is written, "All is vanity"; and again, "A man's pride shall bring him low."

Here me now therefore, O ye maidens, and bow thine ears not unto the flattery of men, be they kings or lawyers. But set thine heart higher and consider the way of the virtuous woman. For it is said, "The love of a good woman is more precious than rubies." A virtuous woman worketh willingly with her hands; she studieth and her candle goeth not out by night; she openeth her mouth with wisdom and her tongue is the law of kindness.

My daughter, forsake not the law of thy mother, even the same law which readeth, "Unto the woman is given the last word."

GLEE CLUB CLOSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

At the final meeting of the Glee Club last week, the following officers were elected for next year: Auryne Bell, president; Silas Wilson, manager and Raymond Craig, secretary.

The Glee Club this year, under the direction of Professor Lampert has had the most successful year in the history of the organization. It has been a big factor in advertising the University throughout the State.

ENGINEERING SENIOR PATENTS INVENTIONS

Ulysses V. Garred, a senior in the College of Engineering, has invented an electrically illuminated walking cane, and a device for heating and ventilating an automobile body. At present he has applications on tests for heat treatments of steel.

Garred is also working on a thesis on "The Manufacture and Development of Machinery for the Manufacture of Fixtures for Kodak Albums." This covers patents already given to him.

Besides being a good student, he has taken quite an active interest in student activities. He is a charter member of the American Association of Engineers, and a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Shaler Geological Society.

The Shaler Geological Society met Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Science Building. M. K. Cooke read a paper on the oil shale industry in which he discussed the cost and profit to be derived from distilling the shale.

At the business meeting which followed it was decided that the wearing of the emblem of the society should be restricted to upper-classmen who have successfully completed one year's work in geology.

The members of the Poster Club entertained the new members with a party at White Hall on Tuesday, May 18. The new officers elected are: President, Kathleen Renick; vice president, Ilma Thorpe; secretary, Fannie Heller, and treasurer, Opal Cox.

PRESIDENT CHERRY SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

"Character is caught, not taught, and is an invisible thing within the spirit of service, yet there never was a time when the spirit of commercialism was so great as it is today," said President Cherry, Western State Normal School, Bowling Green, in chapel, Tuesday.

President Cherry continued: "A noble life makes noble lives; visions transplant visions; ideals create ideals, is the law of life. We cannot inspire our students to live noble lives, to have the great vision, and to realize the finest ideals until we ourselves have them. The only way to prompt others to go out to sea is by going ourselves. We learn to know which will open at 10 o'clock. But just wait till you see what is in the booths and tents with loud "barkers" urging you to hurry before the show starts.

A bevy of charming Mack Sennett mermaids will hold a swimming match just inside. Further on is a giant and midget and—oh, girls, don't you wish you were men, for "Gwendolyn" is for men only.

Just then a policeman will touch you on the shoulder, you look closer and notice how much he resembles Emma Lee Young. "I daresay you will not forget the refreshment booths." He remarks crisply and you turn toward a Japanese tea garden, where you are expected to show your capacity.

Then a coy colonial coquette approaches with a basket of tiny bouquets. You buy one at once as it is for the benefit of the Armenians.

The program to be given on a platform in the center of the lawn was considered too good to give in that way, so we find it in different tents.

SENIOR NOTICE!

Word has been received from D. L. Auld & Company, jewelers, saying that the senior class rings have been unavoidably delayed, but that they hope to get them here about May 25. They regret very much the delay, but because of strikes, "flu" and the shutting off of the gas it has been impossible to get the order here on time.

President Cherry closed by saying: "Kentucky is now looking for young leaders. You here at the University are preparing for larger service needed here in our own Commonwealth."

WHAT I GOT FROM COLLEGE.

The two letters printed below are in answer to the question, "What Did You Get Out of Your Four Years in College?" which the editor of the Kernel asked two prominent members of the class of 1920.

Editor Kernel:

The writer is appalled by the enormity of the task which you have asked her to perform. To sum up in the few words which her still recent experience as one of the staff of the Kernel warns her will be allowed to her, all that she has got from four years of work at the University—this is indeed an exacting assignment. A thousand memories throng before her—the dreams and ideals which were hers before she came to the University, a few of which have been realized, many of which, perhaps fortunately, were long since either lost or altered beyond recognition; the failures and little triumphs; a brilliant lecture here, a stupid one there; a class, the memories of which will be forever pleasant, others in which she has been frankly bored; acquaintances which have developed into lasting friendships, others which have been only disappointments—all these make up her college career as they do of every student. For a moment your contributor is tempted to consult one of the worthy authors of such books as "Why I Came to College," "What College Can Do For One," etc., in order to ascertain just what one is expected to say on such an occasion.

On second thought, however, she decides to be frank and to admit that the thing which appears foremost in her mind as that which will probably have the most lasting influence upon that new career which begins after graduation, is nothing more than an irresistible fascination for being busy. From a senior year in which every minute almost, has been occupied, she goes forth with a desire, not to rest, but to find not only something to do, but much to do. At first thought this may seem unusual. If all our seniors were to express that sentiment, our great thinkers of the faculty would perhaps throw up their hands in despair; that after all their efforts the younger generation has not yet learned that the world is suffering from being too busy; that to quote a well-known philosopher of the University: "What we of America need most today is to meditate."

Truly the writer has dreamed much and idealized more, and she would be deeply grieved to think that dreams and ideals would not always form a great part of her life. But the Spirit of the Age beckons irresistibly, and as one among the millions, who have heard its call, the writer does obeisance.

Sincerely,
LOUISE WILL.

Benefit Bridge Given
By Kappa Kappa Gamma

More than one hundred dollars was made at the benefit bridge party given by the alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity in the ballroom of the Phoenix Hotel on Saturday afternoon, May 15. Forty tables were reserved and prizes were given at each table. The proceeds will go to the Armenian Relief Fund.

The hostesses for the afternoon were: Misses Mildred Taylor, Louie Logan, Elizabeth Threlkeld, Lynda Purnell, Margaret Cornell, Viola Lewis, Mesdames Horace Wilson, Robert Hawkins, R. C. Barbee, William Rodes, Andrew Gill, A. F. Shouse, William Rodes, Jr.

Editor Kernel:

In reply to your query, "what did you get out of college?" I wish to say that I find it a very interesting and yet a most perplexing question. I would recommend that the same questions be asked of every member of the senior class who might perchance read the opinion recorded here.

Coming to college with the simple purpose of obtaining an education, I have learned that whatever I may have acquired in the way of knowledge has only disclosed the vast ignorance that still exists in the darkness of my mind. An education, however, is not to be expressed in terms of chemical formulae mastered, nor can it be measured by the percentage of A's which may mean "high distinction," or no mention at all. The ultimate test is the preparation it gives for life. If we have found here the training that will enable us to meet the problems which will present themselves to us as we leave the walls of our Alma Mater then, but not, until then, can we know whether our sojourn here has been a success or a failure.

In the light of all this it is the opinion of the writer that the training received from the activities of university life together with the fundamental principles learned in the class room should be considered of first importance. Next I should say is the opportunity I have had to meet students and leaders from other colleges and states in the national and sectional meetings, which my university attendance has afforded me. The various phases of university life outside of the class room, the student activities, also promises to be very helpful in the future by reason of the associations that have been formed.

Trusting that you are as much in the dark as is the writer concerning the answer to the proposed questions, I beg to remain

Yours truly,
J JESSE TAPP.

VALE!

In accordance with its annual custom, the Kernel closes its year's work with this issue in order to give the staff connected with its publication opportunity to prepare for examinations and commencement.

See you again in September!
